Royal Birch – Specialists in Curly Birch for Over a Decade

Royal Birch is a dedicated supplier of high-quality curly birch — also known as Masur birch / Karelian birch — native to Finland, grown, harvested, and processed in the heart of Finland.

For the past 11 years, we have sourced logs from carefully managed family forests and produced premium material for customers across Europe.

Our operations combine traditional craftsmanship with reliable supply chain ensuring stable, traceable quality.

OUR PRODUCTS

We deliver high-quality curly birch in different thickness planks and customized blocks. Typical uses are for decorative items and high durability cases.

Why Curly Birch?

Curly birch is internationally valued for its striking natural figure, durability, suitability for luxury goods, furniture, musical instruments, and knife handles.

This rare wood adds high-end aesthetic and commercial value to any final product.
